School administrators and teachers interested in learning more about how to develop and identify a comprehensive high performing middle level program designed toward achieving academic excellence, developmental responsiveness and social equity should not miss this professional development opportunity. This event is specifically designed for administrators and teachers in New York State.

The two day session will familiarize participants with the components of a high quality middle level education program designed to meet the needs of young adolescents.

Training participants will:

- Gain familiarity with NY's Seven Essential Elements of a Standards Focused Middle Level Program
- Understand the four domains of the National Forum to Accelerate Middle Grades Reform School to Watch Criteria
- Be introduced to a process and tools for evaluating their own and other Middle Level programs for the purpose of
 - Focusing their school improvement process
 - Validating best practices and isolating areas in need of improvement in their own and other programs.

If you are interested in seeking New York State and National School to Watch recognition for your school, or you wish to be a part of New York's School to Watch leadership team as a site team or paper reviewer you should not miss this opportunity.

This event is sponsored by the New York State Middle School Association, New York State Education Department and the Leadership Team of New York State's Schools To Watch. The New York State Middle School Association is an approved provider for Continuing Teacher Leader Education. Participation in this event will provide up to 14 hours of CTLE credit.
